

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2009

Music icon lives on in spirit

Tom Ervin, Special to the Sun Sentinel

Casey Cole, left, and Timolin Cole, daughters of the late singer Nat King Cole and founders of the Nat King Cole Generation Hope Inc. foundation to aid music education in South Florida, listen to Forest Hill High School sophomore Sandro Martin play on a baby grand piano donated to the foundation by a Boca Raton couple. The Cole sisters were at the West Palm Beach school to present the piano — the foundation's first gift — to the music department.

